It is imperative that the Roles used within Katso system are named in a consistent way, so as not to make it difficult for end users to understand the purpose of various features. Role naming involves decision-making by the service provider regarding the following:

Role name - for end users to read

Roles should have well-designed, self-explanatory names. The goal is to help the end user understand what the role is for. Role names have the First Character Capitalized. Role name should consist of alphabetic characters (a-ö).

Example of a successfully named role: Income Tax Returns.

Role ID (role attribute value) – for Katso system use

Role ID is the internal role name that the system itself uses. End users will not see it. Max length of Role name ID (role attribute) is 50 characters. The ID includes, with no blanks, the name (or standard abbreviation) of the Service provider in CAPITAL LETTERS and the Role name with the first letter in capital. The ID must include letters only (Scandinavian å, ä or ö are not accepted).

Example of a successfully named role attribute value: VEROTuloveroilmoittaminen.

Role description – explanation of purpose for end users to read

The role description helps the end user to understand the purpose of the role. Include limitations of use in the description of the role.

Example of a well-written Role description:

This role lets you file income tax returns for the company. Please note that you cannot authorize a Sub-ID to have this role.

Note!

Three languages are being used within Katso. Consequently, naming routines of roles should include all languages: Role names in Finnish, Swedish and English.
